Australian Apprenticeships Centre

RGT runs the largest Australian Apprenticeships Centre in the nation's capital city whose primary focus is to encourage and introduce employers and potential Australian Apprentices into accredited training through Australian Apprenticeships. Successful completion of an Australian Apprenticeship is a nationally recognised life-long qualification that has the potential to sustain employment and a career pathway.

The Australian Apprenticeships Centre provides advice and support in all areas of Australian Apprenticeships, along with a personalised job placement service.

Registered Training Organisation

RGT runs a successful Registered Training Organisation, providing high quality training and assessment services for Australian Apprentices participating in a wide range of nationally recognised qualifications.

The Automotive Skills Centre is a sub division of RGT's Registered Training Organisation and provides specialised training programs for the automotive industry.

RGT's Registered Training Organisation aims to provide a centre of excellence in training by promoting and developing an educated, skilled and flexible workforce for our target industries in the ACT.

Group Training Company

RGT runs one of the largest Group Training Company's in the ACT; Group Training is the simplest way for employers to take on Australian Apprentices, and for Australian Apprentices to find a secure job throughout their training.

RGT will employ Australian Apprentices and host them out to various employers for as long as they need them. As a Group Training Company, RGT will take care of all paperwork for wages, allowances, workers compensation and superannuation, while monitoring the Australian Apprentice and ensuring they are a success for the Host Employer.

RGT's Group Training Company is a cost effective training and employment alternative; we take care of the hard work for you!
